HAWKINS, MAURICE	03/05/2026

On March 5, 2025, at approximately 2052 hours, I, Officer Maurice Hawkins, with the Regional Transportation District (RTD) Transit Police Department, was dispatched to an assault at the Denver Union Station, located at 1701 Wynkoop St, in the City and County of Denver, State of Colorado. The RTD owns the station, and the Transit Police Department provides law enforcement services.

I arrived on the scene at track 2, security guards stated that there was a male individual with pepper spray on the tracks and that he pepper-sprayed a security guard. I contacted a male party, later identified as [redacted] who was on the tracks. I asked [redacted] multiple times if he had pepper spray, but he didn't give me an answer and was yelling. [redacted] stated he was sprayed with pepper spray and wanted water. I asked if he needed medical attention, but he declined. [redacted] attempted to leave, but I told him he was detained at this time. [redacted] then attempted to walk away, and I told him he could not leave once more, but he continued. I detained [redacted] with handcuffs with the help of security guards and sat him on the ground. I advised security to check the train on track 2 for the other subject who was involved in the altercation, but he was unable to be located.

I talked to Allied security guards who witnessed the altercation and what happened. They stated that both male parties were arguing, which escalated into a physical altercation. The unknown male party took out pepper spray and sprayed [redacted] during the altercation, and a security guard walked into the mist of the pepper spray. Officer Larkin spoke with the security guard who was pepper-sprayed (see his report for more information). I asked [redacted]

[redacted] if he wanted to press charges, but he declined. [redacted] was identified and released.

Denver PD was contacted and notified of the altercation.

This report is written from my present recollection of events. This written report is not intended to be a verbatim account of the incident. My department issued body-worn camera was recording at the time of this incident in accordance with RTD Transit Police Department Policy #431. The existence of body-worn camera video/audio is documented in the written report, and such video/audio may contain details and/or statements that were not reflected in the written report.

End of Report.

LARKIN, NATE	03/05/2026

On 3/5/2026 at approximately 2056 hours, I, Officer Larkin of the Regional Transportation District Transit Police dispatched to a fight in progress on track 3 at Denver Union Station located at 1701 Wewatta Street in the City and County of Denver, State of Colorado. Denver Union Station is owned by RTD and law enforcement services are provided by the Transit Police Department on RTD property.

While enroute to the call, I was advised by Transit Police Communications that one of the suspects was leaving the scene on a bicycle. Another officer on scene advised that an Allied Universal contracted security employee may have been pepper sprayed.

When I arrived on scene, I observed a security employee by the name of [redacted] cleaning her eye out with a bottle of water. I advised [redacted] that I was calling for medical services to evaluate and clear her prior to returning to work for transit security. [redacted] told me that there was a verbal altercation and that the subject on the bike sprayed the other subject with pepper spray. After the pepper spray was deployed, [redacted] walked through the cloud, and it contaminated her. EMS came and [redacted] and advised her supervisor to send her home for the day.

After speaking to [redacted], I went over towards track 3 and found officer Hawkins with one subject, later identified as [redacted], detained in handcuffs sitting on the ground. [redacted] was screaming in pain from being sprayed by pepper spray and refused to speak with officers. I asked [redacted] if he would like to be seen by ems, of which he declined. [redacted] declined to press charges on the unknown subject on the bike.

[redacted] was released from handcuffs and left property. No charges or RTD suspensions were issued involving this call.

This concludes my involvement in this case.

Officer Larkin #2444
